1.2 Scope of the work completed during the Internship :-

- To understand and study the overall project.
- To study the drawings of whole project.
- To learn and study some new concept like Coffer Dam, jack well.
- To observe and understand the actual work of construction based on our theoretical knowledge like casting, shuttering, reinforcement of beams, Columns, slab, etc. Also there curing, excavation, etc.
- To understand and learn all construction related activities like Planning, Execution, Monitoring, Maintenance, etc.
- To learn and perform basic things required at site by a civil engineer. E.g. Study of drawings/plans, Calculating quantities of steel, concrete, etc., Levelling by a auto level, testing of concrete cubes, etc.

1.3 The Details of Topic of Internship :-

The current project is of 16 MLD capacity Pipe Water Supply Scheme For Jamner Industrial Area From Waghur Dam, under Maharashtra Industrial Development Corporation. The whole project can be divided into three parts :-

1) Construction of Jack well
2) Pipeline from waghur dam to Water treatment plant
3) Construction of Water treatment plant

So the construction of all three parts is going on side by side. First part of the given project is excavation and construction of Jack well at waghur dam. Jack well is a intake type of structure. Intake structures are hydraulic structures used for various purposes that includes collecting water from the surface sources like river, lake and reservoir and transfer it further to the water treatment plant.

Further from the Jack well to Water Treatment Plant water is needed to be conveyed with the help of Pipeline. Nearly a pipeline of length approximately 9 KM has to be developed.

The most important part of this project is Water Treatment Plant where Purification of water will be done, then from there water will be supplied to distribution network of Jamner Industrial Area.

The current project is of Maharashtra Industrial Development Corporation. The contract of given project is given to VUB Engineering Pvt. Ltd. Mumbai.– 400 077. Structural Consultant of given project are Abhay Consultants Pvt. Ltd. Pune.

2. INTERNSHIP DISCUSSION

2.1 Problem / Project / Opportunity :-

- I got the opportunity to get introduced to some new concepts like Coffer Dam, Jack Well, different components of Water Treatment Plant like Clariflocculator Chamber, Filter House, Inlet Chamber, Pure water sump and pump house structure, Recirculation Sump etc.
- Also got opportunity to understand this entire project of 16 MLD capacity Pipe Water Supply Scheme For Jamner Industrial Area From Waghur Dam, under Maharashtra Industrial Development Corporation.
- I got the opportunity to get meet to some government officers who came to visit the site from MIDC department.
- Also I got opportunity to monitor and learn how the coffer dam is getting built and how the excavation of Jack Well is getting done on site.
- While calculating quantities faced different types of difficulties and so got opportunities to learn different methods for calculating quantities. (For example while calculating quantity of steel required for circular shaped slab of pure water sump and pump house I had used conventional method which had consumed lots of time and quite confusing. But chord method which was told by my mentor quite easy and quick.)
- I got opportunity to monitor and learn the whole process of casting of slab, columns, beams, plastering, shuttering, arranging scaffolding, curing of slab, beams and columns as well.
- I also got opportunity to study the different drawings of project

2.2 Learning Experience

a) Knowledge Acquired:

- Learned new concepts like Coffer Dam and Jack Well
  - i) Coffer Dam :- Coffer Dam is an enclosure type of structure built inside a water body in order to make that enclosed area dry by pumping out the water from it. They are constructed for construction or repair of dams, jackwell, bridges etc.
  - ii) Jack Well :- Jack well is a intake type of structure. Intake structures are hydraulic structures used for various purposes that includes collecting water from the surface sources like river, lake and dams and other reservoir and transfer it further to the water treatment plant. Intake structures are completely concrete or masonry structures and that supply relatively clean water, free from pollution, sand and objectionable floating materials.

    There are two kinds of intake structure a) Wet intake structure b) Dry intake structure. As Jack well Structure or Intake Structure is underwater structure, there proper design is essential, as the re-construction of this structures become un-economical.

    1. Wet Intake Structure:-It is a type of intake tower within which the water level is practically similar to the level of the sources of supply.
    2. Dry Intake Structure:-In case of dry intake, there is no water within the reservoir. Water enters through the entry port directly into the transferring pipes. It's simply used for the operation of valves etc.
- I have gained knowledge and experience about entire slab, columns, beams casting. i.e. starting from placing scaffolding, then placing there reinforcement according to drawings, then doing shuttering work, checking there alignment with the help of plumb bob, then doing concreting of them and at last carrying curing process of them.
- As I have learned in the course Building Design and Construction the type of scaffolding used on site was
- Also as in Building Design and Construction course we learned to read and make engineering drawings that helped me to read and understand the different drawings of given project.
- Also by reading the drawings I have learned to check the reinforcement of slab, columns and beams.
- I have observed and learned how actually the work at batching plant is carried out, also how transit mixer actually works whose theoretical knowledge I have learned in course Concrete Technology.
- We have to check the proportion of concrete by checking the cubes strength before concreting.

- I have learned the precautions that we should take while doing pump concreting. For e.g. the maximum free fall height of concrete should be 1-1.5 m, the concrete should be pumped continuously if we are using concrete pump otherwise the pipes will get clogged, we have to check the slump of concrete by slump cone test, we have to cast cubes with the concrete from each transit mixer's delivery at pump and then we have to check the strength of that cubes and many more which I have already learned in the course Concrete Technology.
- Also the ponding's are used for curing process of slab and a covering and spraying of water method has been used for curing process of columns and beams which I have learned in the course Concrete Technology.
- I have learned how to calculate the quantities of different materials required at site. E.g. quantity of steel, concrete, sand, cement etc. The basis information about this I have learned in the course strength of material.
- While casting slab we have to mark the level of the top of slab required according to drawings for the convenience of Laboure's and also have to check the level while concreting of slab is going on.

b) Skills Learned:

- Team management :- As throughout the internship worked with the entire team at site. So observed and learned the roles and responsibilities of each of the member. And mixed them in short period of time. So learned how to work in a team.
- Time management:- How to complete the assigned work on time with good quality. How to manage many things required to complete the given work.
- To ensure whether the safety and health precautions are obeyed correctly on site.
- Site management :- How to manage site on day to day basis.
- Monitoring :- monitored and checked whether the technical designs and drawings are interpreted correctly or not.
- Also monitored and checked whether the reinforcement of different components are applied correctly according to drawings or not.
- Estimation and costing :- How to calculate the quantities of different materials required at site.
- Work in pressure :- How to handle the situation full of tension with patience (As while casting slab with concrete pump, pump got clogged 2 times so learned how to handle such situations.)
- Learned how to calculate the quantities of cutting and filling required from plan in autocad.
- Learned to set out the level and how to give level of top of slab and how to check it according to drawings.
- How to manage the workers.

- Communication skills :- How to communicate with your seniors. How to report them about work allocated to me.
- To read the Engineering drawings.
- Got friendly with AutoCAD Interface.
- How to communicate with government officers when they come to visit.

c) Observed Attitudes and Gained Values:

- Work harder and smarter, Patience, Ability to work in pressure, Hospitability, Proficient, Honesty, Sincere, Dependability, Creativity, Loyalty, Giving respect to others, Responsible, Teamwork.

d) The Most Challenging Task Performed:

The most challenging task performed on site is casting of slab. The whole process consists of many tasks like from setting its reinforcement, then checking it according to drawing, then checking the alignment of its outer shuttering with plumb bob, giving level of slab top according to drawing, also keep on checking while concreting is going on, we have to continuously monitor it whether the vibrator is getting operated correctly that should not be in large or less amount, again if we are using concrete pump then concrete should transferred continuously otherwise the pipes will get chogged, we have to pay attention whether free fall height is correct or not, again after casting we have to properly pay attention toward curing process of it and many more. So according to me this was most challenging task performed by me.

3. CONCLUSION

The experience of work in this Internship is very good. I have learned many new things lots of my doubts about onsite work got clear. This Internship has given me overall experience of a professional work. I have applied my theoretical knowledge to understand how actually different processes are carried out on site. Along with the practical knowledge I have gained experience of Interdisciplinary approach.

Learning Experience:-

a) Knowledge acquired:-

My Internship was completed in the web development background. Through this internship I was exposed to various concepts of web development including below list. “My internship taught me how to manage time and how to complete the work within given interval of time”.

- Server Used:- XAMPP Server For backend
  Frontend Languages:- HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, Javascript Backend Languages:- PHP, MySQL

b) Skills learned:-

- Host dynamic website on 000webhost.com
- Different Queries in SQL like Insert, Update, etc.
- Video Making skills
- Improved Linkdin Profile & built connections.

c) Observed attitudes and gained values:-

Through the Internship, I realize that how time management is important if we manage time well then we can easily complete our work during that interval of time. Also we must have to be independent and honest as we know that “Honesty is the best policy”.

d) The most challenging task performed:-

Its update the salary of users account when someone transferred the amount. Firstly I’m don’t know how to do that ,then I tried some operations but I didn’t get it & searching SQL queries on W3.school. I realize it is very simple for that one I just tried a lot & found it just a piece of cake. Yes , so this is my challenging task during internship.

3. CONCLUSION

I had great experience with this as I like Web Development . As it's my second internship I put my all efforts & knowledge which I got from academics & previous internship. I made Website ,purpose of it is : Sample Bank System where user can Add there account ,see others name which are already created in Bank Account & main function User can transfer Money from his/her account to another account and meanwhile account balance will deduct & add called Durability.
